

I have had the pleasure of knowing and working with Daniel Sharon for almost 7 years.

It is with great pleasure to call Daniel a friend and a business mentor. His insight and advice on developing service focused cultures in companies and how to develop teams that execute on delivering optimal customer service is invaluable.

In one way or another, Daniel worked with over 50 of my employees and without exception left an impression on each even after they moved on.

Today, we have retained Daniel to train our senior executive team at Park One and also to help with our training program.

It is without reservation and with great pleasure that I highly recommend Daniel Sharon for any firm seeking to achieve high standards in hospitality management and service.
